

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

These pages have been prepared as a memorial to my grandmother, Ruth Church (Magoun, Breck) Eaton. The information here given is as complete as it was practicable to make it, though not as full as desired; the descendants are now scattered through so much of our own country and some in foreign lands that great difficulty has been experienced in communicating with many of them. It is hoped these pages will arouse an interest in the subject among the descendants and that the work of collecting the full Magoun genealogy may be carried on later to completion.

My thanks are due to those who have so kindly assisted me in my researches, especially to Mrs. Susan J. Sherman, of Pembroke, whose assistance has been invaluable.

Supplement to the Magoun Memorial,

BY SAMUEL BRECK, U. S. A.,

Governor's Island, New York City, June 28, 1893.

John and Rebecka Magoun,

WHO SETTLED IN PEMBROKE, MASS.,

ABOUT 1665.

EXPLANATIONS.—Abbreviations used: b. born; d. died; m. married. The numerals I, II, III, &c., denote the generations descending from John Magoun, of Scituate, as the first generation, American. The numbers at the left of the pages are for reference only; the numbers in brackets thus [16], refer to them.

1. I. JOHN MAGOUN, b. probably about 1625; came to Massachusetts from Scotland in 1655, with Robert Dunbar and Francis McFarland; settled in Hingham, where he m. 7th Nov. 1662, Rebecka ———; about 1665 removed to what has since been known as the "two mile district" in Pembroke. At that time this district was a part of Scituate, but subsequently was set off to Pembroke. Here he was a farmer; became a free holder in 1666; his will, dated 20th May, 1697, mentions himself as "aged;" will proved 27th June, 1709; he made a deed to his son, Elias, 25th March, 1708-9; his wife was living at date of his will; she d. ——. No inventory of his estate has been found, but from the amount of property with which his name is connected it is inferred that he was a man of "considerable means."

It is a tradition that two brothers of John Magoun also came over, one of whom settled in New Hampshire while John settled in Massachusetts, and that one of the brothers soon returned to Scotland. Probably Jonathan Magoun, resident of Hingham, Mass., in 1657, is one of them, and the brother who returned, and Henry Magoun, resident of Dover and Exeter, N. H., between 1657 and 1665, the other. A number of descendants of Henry are in Boston and vicinity, and the Rev. Elias Magoun, a prominent Baptist clergyman of New York State, is also his descendant.

John Magoun (I) had two dwelling houses in Scituate, the one on or connected with land he bought of George Russell of Duxbury, in 1693, though it is not clear whether he bought or built the house, he gave during his lifetime to his son James, who occupied it at the date of his father's will, in which the gift to him was confirmed. The dwelling house he occupied at the time of his death he probably built about 1666 on land purchased from Robert and Lucy Barker in 1663 (deed acknowledged 1666,) this dwelling he bequeathed to his son John (II); it is now standing in Pembroke on the road a little above the "Magoun Cemetery" and on the opposite side of the street. It is two stories in front and originally ran down to one story at the back ("lean-to") with two rooms and a hall between in front, and a large central chimney; the front door was originally fastened with a bar across; the walls were lined with brick as a protection against Indians. It had a fine well of excellent water with the old-fashioned well sweep; his land at the back of his house extended to the North River; this river became noted later for its ship yards; he also owned a portion of a large tract of land bordering on the South on Buzzard's Bay, the whole tract purchased of the "late Governor Josiah Winslow, Esq., and Major William Bradford Treasurer" prior to 1680.

John (II) left this house to his son John (III), whose son John (IV) had it; his son John (V), who was a cabinet maker and carpenter, had it very much improved; he raised the back of the house to a full story; dying before his father, the place passed to his elder brother Elias (V), and after him to his younger son Luther (VI) who occupied it with his family until 1868, improving it, and in 1837-8 erecting all the buildings now in rear of the house; he improved and enlarged the house, making a fine stone cellar under the East half of it, and deepened the well, now never failing, which is still used with a sweep. About a hundred or more years ago there was a saw mill on the place, the brook that runs through the place furnishing the power, but only part of the raceway remains; have not found when it was built. The place is now owned by his heirs, his son John having charge of it. It is now (Spring of 1893) unoccupied.
